Week 4

程序代写代做 CS编程辅导

Lab Work (worth 2% of your final mark for the unit)

This Lab is on during the semester. Each lab is worth 2 of your final mark. The lab is actually marked out of 4 then normalised to 2). The best

In the last 30 (or before if you ask and the tutor has time) your tutor will be asked a few questions to determine whether you confidently understand the work you are presenting. You will be awarded a mark of 0 if any trace of plagiarism is detected during this questioning. You may prepare your solution before the lab in which case you can ask to be marked at the earliest opportunity.

Selected rows are rows that have been clicked and therefore their text is bolded. Display a confirm pop up dialog before doing the delete it should say how many rows are to be deleted and offer a cancel option. After a successful delete display a pop up dialog that confirms how many rows were deleted. See below for screen shots.

Some requirements and hints:

- Do NOT alter the HTML to facilitate jQuery selection.
- Use the console to test out jQuery selection before inserting it in code, it saves time.
- There are bolded rows in jQuery, I found the “:has” selector useful but you are not required to use it.

Zoom the following image to see details.

Rows 1 and 3 are bolded (bolded). The “Delete selected tasks” button/link has a pop up dialog confirms that 2 records are to be deleted.

This pop up dialog should be displayed if the user now cancels the delete.

Here the “OK” button was clicked and rows 1 and 3 have been deleted. A pop up dialog confirms their deletion.

Actually, what really happens is the confirmation pop up dialog appears before the rows are removed from the display. Why is that?
